In Memorium Mrs Mary Elizabeth Smith

(By Mrs. J. N. Beauchier)

The silent messenger of death entered the home of Mr. G. F. Smith on Tuesday, March 19th, and claimed the dearly beloved wife and mother of that household, leaving many grief stricken hearts in both the family and in the Champion community where Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been prominent residents for many years.

Apparently in usual good health, Mrs. Smith was engaged in home and social activities until Thursday, March 14th, when she entered the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary where an operation was performed. Five days later, in spite of all that professional skill could do, her life light flickered out and she entered into the life eternal. It is generally surmised that Mrs. Smith had recognized symptoms of serious physical trouble some time earlier, but with characteristic consideration for and devotion to family and friends she kept all such knowledge within her own heart, and under cover of assumed cheerfulness and gaiety made careful plans for the future of the family.

As a wife and mother, Mrs. Smith was the embodiment of all the devotion and self-sacrifice implied by other terms, while as neighbour, friend and citizen her life was exemplary in every detail. The experiences of early pioneering considered hardships by some, only served to develop and broaden her character and to furnish the soul's appointed means of growth.

Words are inadequate to record the irreparable loss the community at large has sustained in the passing of such a public spirited woman. For nearly a quarter of a century Mrs. Smith has been identified with every forward movement in the Champion district, whether social, moral, educational or religious, and all organized effort tending toward such progress has received her active and loyal support.

As president of the Ladies' Aid of the Champion United Church, a teacher in the Sunday school, for many years an officer and always deeply interested in the local branch of the Women's Institute, actively connected with the erection and opening of the Community Hall and numerous other enterprises, combined with general household and kindly interests, all have testifies Mrs. Smith won and held an enviable place in the hearts of all who knew her. Of her life and work it may be truly said—"She hath done what she could."

Mary Elizabeth Groves, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Groves, was born near Springville, Wisconsin, March 17, 1876, and departed this life March 19, 1929 at the age of 53 years.

June 26, 1895, she was unit in marriage with G. F. Smith, and settled on a farm near the parental home where they resided for six years. In 1901 they moved to Minnesota and later to North Dakota. In 1905 Mr. and Mrs. Smith homesteaded in the Champion (then known as Cleverville) district, where continuous residence has since been maintained. To this union three children were born, Mrs. Mabel Smith Jones of Los Angeles, California and Miss Rachel and Master George of Champion. Together with the sorrowing husband and children, three sisters and a brother survive the deceased viz.—Mrs. Ottie Thompson Viroqua, Mrs. Harriet Mills of

Dramatic Society Delights Good Champion Audience

The presentation of "What Happened to Jones," by the Lomond Dramatic Society in the Community Hall, Champion, on Friday, March 22nd, was a veritable triumph for an amateur organization. So well were the characters taken throughout, and so complete the staging that it is difficult to mention any one character without the feeling that another was being slighted if not accorded the same measure of praise. Even the smallest parts had been given the most careful preparation and it was this feature which added largely to attractiveness of the presentation. Naturally, Mrs. Jones, Prof. Goodley, Alvin Starlight and the Bishop are prominent characters and those who handled their representation so cleverly are entitled to the highest praise. Following is the cast:

Jones J. W. Williamson
Ebeneezer Gooley D. D. A. Allen

Alvin Starlight N. Erskine Matilda (Ebeneezer's wife) Mary Maranda

Richard Heathcote P. A. Thompson

Alvin Starlight Mrs. C. W. Thompson

Bishop of Ballarat J. G. Creegan

Bigby and Fuller R. Frost

Marjorie Goodley Mrs. N. Erskine Siss (a ward of Gooley's) Mrs. D. Allen

Servant Jean Adams

Mr. Erskine St. enlivened the time between acts with Scotch songs which were highly appreciated, the audience being hard to satisfy with enough of these.

It is safe to say that those who were unfortunate enough to miss this comedy-drama should make an effort to attend any succeeding effort made by the Lomond society. The histrionic ability developed and the ability in stage management is seldom equalled in amateur ranks.

Church Board To Make Canvas

An organized canvas will be made by the Champion United Church during the next two weeks, in an effort to get subscribed a sufficient amount to cover our budget for 1929. This will be payable during the year of 1929, but we are hoping for liberal contribution in cash.

To facilitate this canvas and successfully accomplish our task we appeal to you for your loyal and sympathetic support.

If we all accept our share of this responsibility and contribute to the full measure of our ability, there will be no question as to the church holding its proper place in our community life.

Special Easter Services In the United Church

Easter services will be held in the United Church at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. Parents are invited to attend Sunday school with their children. The pastor, Rev. S. R. Hunt will preach at Carmangay at 3 p.m. in the absence of Rev. F. Chapman.

La Crosse, Wisconsin, Mr. L. M. Groves and Mrs. Edna M. Wiso of Champion, also numerous more distant relatives and a host of friends and acquaintances, who grieve over the loss of so loyal a friend and neighbor.

You know how it is with clothes. Either they look like a million dollars—or like the price you actually pay.

You can buy a fairly well-made suit for the average price—but you can't expect it to look (or feel, or wear) like anything more than just that. On the other hand, you may separate yourself from a few extra dollars, and get something as really luxurious as a LEISHMAN or a SOCIETY BRAND suit, and the satisfaction you buy can't be measured in money.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Rumor that Mr. McGillivray is going to resign, that Premier Brownlow will resign and O. L. McPherson become premier with the Farmers and Conservatives united, is all very well even if not confirmed, but the most imaginative newspaper man in the province would never think of suggesting that the present government had in view the reduction of taxation in any direction.

The excitement in the oil market continues without any abatement. When things get a little dull a new well blows in and away the crowd goes again. However, the most optimistic sees a weakening in the boom prices at an early date, for the simple reason that production does not guarantee satisfactory returns for the capital being invested.

The early completion of the Suffield branch from Athabasca Blacktail will be duly appreciated by residents all along the line. Naturally it means better passes and freight service and general improvement of the whole branch. Direct communication with Calgary will also prove of great benefit.

The campaign for good seed is undoubtedly having effect to judge by enquiries being made in this respect from all parts of the country. There are enough chances taken with regard to growing crops in this part of the country without including unsatisfactory seed. Sow nothing but the best available.

The Calgary Board of Trade has begun a campaign to induce the consumption of Alberta coal in Ontario, a feature of which is a letter prepared for distribution by residents in this country to their friends in Ontario drawing attention to the sterling qualities of the Alberta product.

The Hudson's Bay railway is making rapid progress towards completion. While the Pacific coast outlet has led to but little attention being paid the new route in Alberta the completion of the Bay line will provide an even shorter route for Alberta grain and should lead to lower freight rates to the west.

Tuesday provided a real, old-time spring day with a wind from the southwest. The fact was noticeable only because we have had but few of these winds during the past few years and during that period crops and rainfall have been above the average. In consequence most people are not wishing for much of these winds for 1929.

GENERAL NEWS

Session of the Sixth Legislature of Alberta was pro-rogued on Wednesday, March 20th. Of the 85 bills before the House, 75 were passed as compared with 71 last year. Public bills numbered 67 and private bills 8. General satisfaction with the results of the session and the amount of important legislation passed is expressed by members of the government. The usual synopsis of important acts passed during the session is being prepared by John D. Hunt, Clerk of the Executive Council, and will be ready for distribution within a short time.

A start will be made on Alberta's 1929 1930 program of highway construction as soon as weather conditions permit, announces Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works.

The work to be undertaken will involve an expenditure of some $100,000. The graveling of the road between Macleod and Pincher Creek has already been started and a number of other projects will be commenced within a short time.

Acres ready for 1929 crop in Alberta amounts to 3,652,599 acres according to the report issued during the past week by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This includes 2,732,599 acres of summerfallow and 50,000 acres of new breaking.

As compared with the previous year, these figures show an increase of 100,000 acres of new breaking and a decrease of 112,274 acres of summerfallow. It is estimated, however, that the amount of fallowing done in 1928 considerably exceeds that of 1927 so that on the whole Alberta will this year be in readiness for crop the largest acreage of any year in its history.

Wants Public Ownership

One of the chief reasons why Alberta should enter into complete control of the development and distribution of electrical energy with the least possible delay, is that the public ownership interests lack funds, that the cause of public ownership must be fought mainly by those who are devoted to a principle and willing to give their services, while the power interests can afford to spend lavishly in the attempt to capture the power field. Millions are spent on anti-public ownership propaganda this continent today. The only way in which Alberta's interests can be certainly safeguarded is by entrance into the power field at an early date. Those who suggest that the farmers are content in this matter are mistaken. The farmers know that in the long run, though perhaps not for some years to come, power for the farms will be obtained more advantageously under the public than under private ownership. But they do not expect miracles. They do not recognize the grave danger to public life which his arises in every community in which private power interests have been allowed to gain a foothold. Their devotion to public ownership is a matter of principle.—U. F. A.

Native Fruits
And Ornamentals

(Experimental Farms Note)

"Far-off fields look green." This aphorism applies to more things than pasture.

We have wisely imported the caragana shrub but largely neglected to cultivate the saskatoon and the buffalo berry. We plant the Scotch pine but forget the lodge-pole and the spruce. We pay out good money for the Russian and Northwestem poplars but are slow to utilize the hardy, sweet-scented balm of gilead and the cottonwood—our remarkable quest for the variety of type and character contributed by exotic we are too prone to pass up the native species, whose habitat proves them adapted to our environment.

The Dominion Experimental Station at Beaverlodge, Alta., has been rather featuring these native plants. Conspicuous success has attended the culture of the saskatoon as pruned hedges, as fruiting rows and as low windbreaks or snow catches. Failure attended ordinary methods of transplanting the saskatoon but when chunks of roots with all the top chopped off were strewn into a shallow furrow and completely covered up a slow but sure establishment took place and today, ten years after planting, these hedges attract as favorable attention as anything in the grounds.

Another hedge plant native in Southern Alberta and recently introduced at Beaverlodge with promise of success is the buckberry or buffalo berry, (Shepherdia argentea). Other natives successfully brought under cultivation are sandcherry, chokeberry, pincher, mountain ash, snowberry, wild honeysuckle, wild elmleaf and dwarf birch.

A certain measure of success has been met with the dwarf hazel nut and the pembinas, or high-bush cranberry, while silverberry is being tested.

Wild strawberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries have been tried but discarded in favor of domestic sorts.

Among trees the balm of gilead, the white spruce and the tamarack have

Lowest Costs with Three-Fuel Power

Three hundred and twenty acres plowed in 42 consecutive hours at a cost of only 6 cents an acre for fuel and oil—that's the record of a Texas Hart-Parr owner. Six cents an acre for one-way-disk plowing, 4½ cents an acre for cold bed work. Only a three-fuel Hart-Parr is built on that. Texas Hart-Parr fuel could make such a record for Hart-Parr is the only tractor that develops tremendous power from gasoline, kerosene or distillate. Hart-Parrs are made for small, medium or large farms and have three forward speeds to speed up hauling and field work. Put a three-fuel Hart-Parr to work on your farm and cut farming costs.

It's the money you spend wisely that counts

Someone has said that a rich man has more fun keeping a budget than a man of moderate means. Because the money he saves is tangible, he can see it and invest it, and put it to work. Be that as it may, a budget is an invaluable help to anyone.

A budget helps you keep the right proportions between expenses, prevents you from spending more than is best for food and rent, or crimping more than you should on entertainment and luxury. But a budget is not a reason for getting cheap things, things in which you forfeit quality by attempting to save on price. A budget says to you: "Here is the amount of money you should spend for this. Spend all of it, but don't spend more." And it is up to you to get the best that can be got for that amount.

The person who spends his money wisely, who likes to get the utmost for it, always finds out from advertisements how he can spend it to the best advantage.

It is surprising how much more wisely you can buy if you make it a habit to read advertising. A little more value here . . . a little better workmanship there . . . in this thing slightly more durability . . . that product perhaps a bit finer. And every cent of money you spend for advertised merchandise will bring you greater comfort, a higher quality of goods, and a standard of excellence that is nationally recognized.

It certainly pays to read the advertisements
